Welcome...

Dear Delegate

On behalf of the Equality Working Group and our many partners, I would like to welcome you to the Equality Guernsey Conference. This is the culmination of the Equality Guernsey project where we have been supported by the Committee for Employment and Social Security to raise awareness of human rights, equality, diversity and inclusion through a series of events, website resources, and social media.

For those who have attended events in our series I am sure you have been impressed with content and the quality of presenters. I think you will agree that the line up for today's conference has surpassed all expectations. I am very pleased that we have managed to put together such a powerful line up of well respected speakers, panellists and workshop leads from Guernsey and beyond. I am personally particularly looking forward to listening to June Sarpong MBE having missed her on her previous visit to Guernsey.

I also must thank the Guernsey College of Further Education for hosting this event and others in the series, all staff involved have been excellent with their support. In addition thanks to our main sponsor of the Conference, Northern Trust and all other sponsors large and small who have enabled us to make the series so successful. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to have been involved in a project that has truly been a partnership between government, private, public and third sector organisations.

I hope you have an enjoyable, thought provoking and informative day as we #StartTheConversation and please respond to the forthcoming consultation on Equality legislation from the Committee for Employment and Social Security.
